Evan Y. Chuck, a partner in Crowell & Moring’s Los Angeles office, is a member of the firm’s International Trade and Corporate Groups. He leads its Asia practice and is a director of CMI Shanghai, the firm’s China consulting subsidiary.

Mr. Chuck has more than 25 years of experience in trade issues, including tariffs, and customs and compliance matters. He has been a strategic advisor to Fortune 500 companies in structuring market entry, global supply chain and e-commerce strategies across the Asia-Pacific region. Mr. Chuck has in-depth experience in China with cross-border acquisitions/dispositions, government regulatory compliance and investigations.

As a member of Crowell & Moring’s Coronavirus Working Group, Mr. Chuck advises multinational companies on the rapidly changing government orders in the United States, European Union, United Kingdom, Middle East and Asia impacting operations and supply chains. He guides clients procuring personal protective equipment (PPE) from China and other parts of Asia.

Mr. Chuck also continues to advise U.S.-based companies with complex supply chains in the ongoing Section 301 trade dispute between the U.S. and China.
